Trus Bro's allow easy setting up of timbers for standardised spacing. Their simplicity allows faster installation and safe fine adjustment before securing.

The standing of roof trusses should be done in a safe manner. The Trus bro facilitates this by holding everything together in its correct location so there's less time spent standing trusses accurately. They eliminating errors and rework.

No more constantly measuring and trying to hold trusses in winds while you finally adjust and secure. Time working in compromised positions above nets is significantly reduced. Staff are safer and more productive.

Trus Bros are easily adjustable to 900, 600, 450 and 400mm spacing's. They can be used also for rafters, bearers and any situation where regular spacing is required.

Trus Bros come in a handy stackable 8 pack holder to minimizing storage in vehicles and making them easy to transport.

Faster, safer, innovative, less mistakes... isn't that what everyone needs to run an effective operation?
